Summary: (machine translated)
The canyon of Las Calzadas de Teruel is located in a beautiful spot in the Lastra mountain range, about 12 kms from Aliaga. Its facilities are quite old, so it is a good idea to carry spare material or secure the rappels from somewhere else.
It is a short, intense canyon, normally dry, or with some pools with very dirty water. The last 3 rappels are very beautiful cascades.
The approach is immediate because it is a few meters from the road and the return is about 10-15 minutes. Not many people go to make this canyon, the solitude and tranquility will be the note during the descent, another activity that you can complement with another nearby canyon, the Clara.

Access: (machine translated)
We must go to Aliaga (Teruel). In the village we take the A-2403 towards Aldehuela and continue along the road until km 12.8. Here we have a place on the right to leave the car.

Approach: (machine translated)
Along the path that goes from the parking area to the river.

Tour: (machine translated)
5 uncomplicated rappels. The only problem can be stagnant water in the pools and the facilities that are old and unreliable.

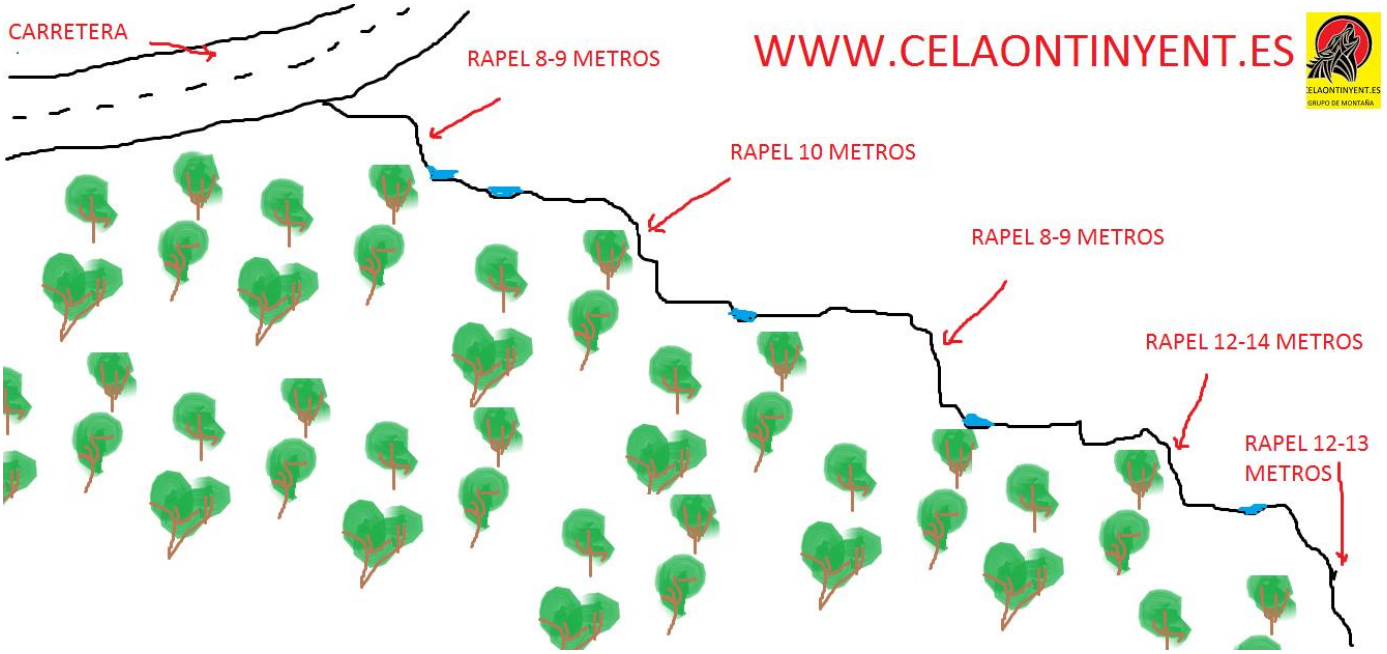

Return: (machine translated)
At the end of the walk, go up to the road and drive 500m back to the car.
