Specialities:

Gear:

Summary: (machine translated)
Almost collector's canyon, with lots of vegetation, natural facilities and very little frequented. It is better to do it after rains.
You could start about 150m higher with another 20m rappel but then we have 150m very dressed and not worth it.

Hydrology:

Access: (machine translated)
Located between Pamplona and Donosti, in the beautiful village of Lekunberri with its beautiful greenway Plazaola.
We will leave northbound on the NA1300 towards Azpirotz, we will leave the detour behind us until p.k. 19.6 where we have the source of the Araxes river on our right and a place to park.

Approach: (machine translated)
Next to the fountain there is a path that goes up the slope through the forest (be careful not to follow the path to the E, it would lead us to the village), a little lost, to a hill where it joins the track that leaves the village. We will not take the big track from the village but from the pass we will look for a small path that takes us directly to the riverbed.

Tour: (machine translated)
A descent dug in V, with rappels from natural in a very grassy environment really nice if we do it with water.

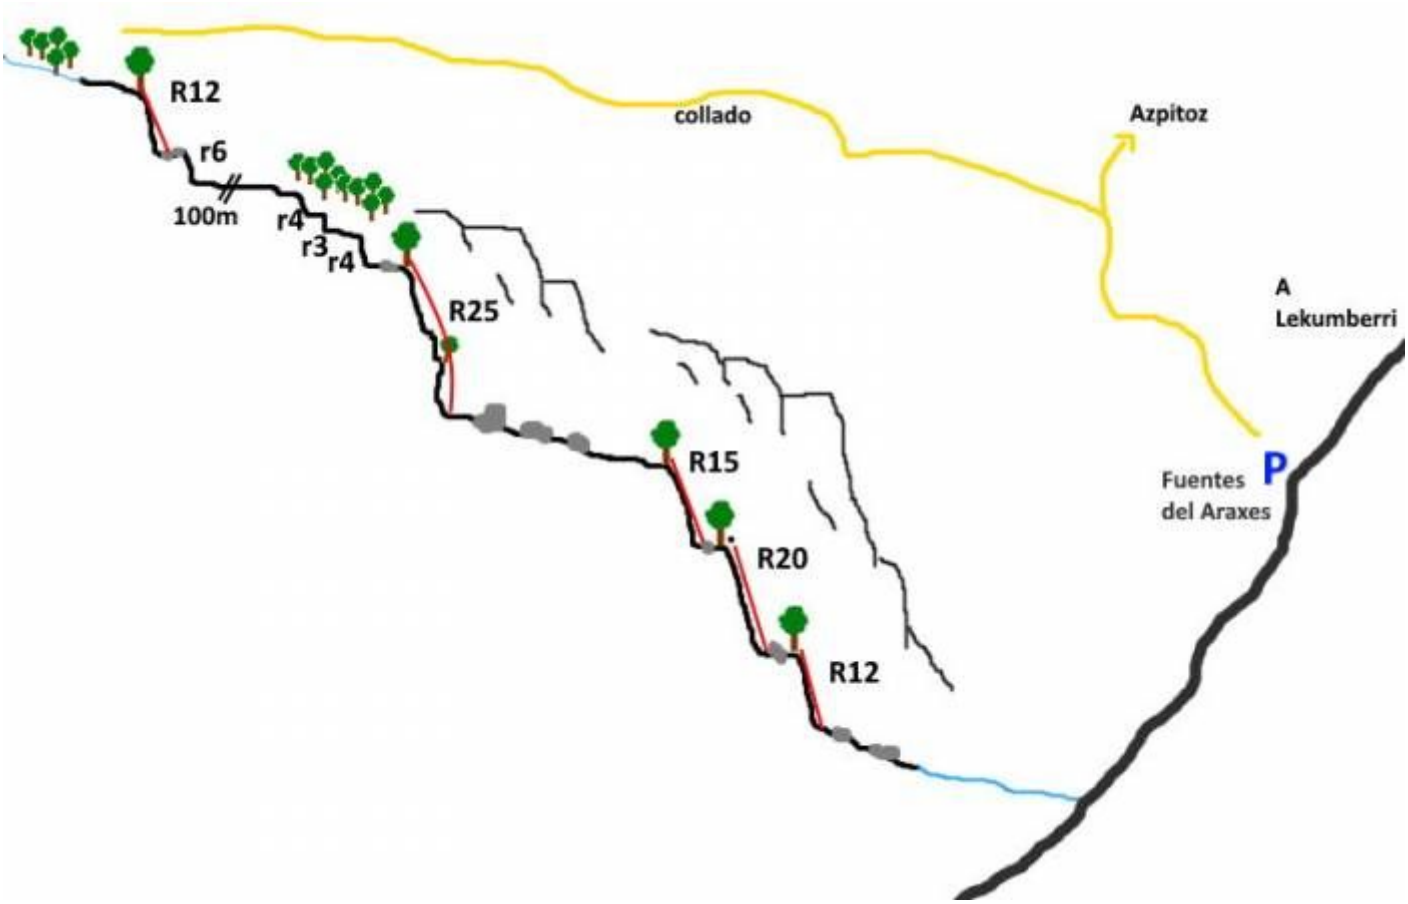

Return: (machine translated)
We will have to follow the riverbed to the road and go back up to the car.
