Summary: (machine translated)
Or for its last vertical, Oinasko waterfall. Nice, simple and short descent to make in spring or after heavy rains to find the ravine with a good flow. Unparalleled environment in the Baztan Valley.

Hydrology:
Sí

Access: (machine translated)
We must be located in Elizondo, in the Baztan valley.
On the N121b, at the traffic circle on the p.k 50,6 we take it towards Orabidea. We leave the car down here, where we can see that we are not disturbed. Behind the Oñaska grill, on the track, if we have room, is the best option.
If we have access car we will continue up the road towards the shooting range, we will leave it to one side and about 300m later a track comes out on the right, in this area we will be able to park.

Approach: (machine translated)
We will go up in search of the GR11, along the road, to take the track on the right that will lead us to the head of the GR11.

Tour: (machine translated)
Small, well-equipped waterfalls that will take us to the longest, Oinaska.

Return: (machine translated)
After the last waterfall we can exit to the left along the access trail used by tourists, we could follow the river a little further but it does not contribute much.
